

Seattle Post-Intelligencer

May 31, 2005
LIFE AND ARTS

MOONLIGHTING: SEASONS 1 & 2

The 1980s TV series turned sexual tension into an art form. And it launched the careers of Bruce Willis and Cybill Shepherd, who played private eye David Addison and former supermodel Maddie Hayes. When Maddie's business manager steals all she has, she discovers one of her money-losing tax writeoffs is Addison's detective agency. As his new boss, she joins him in his investigation. But the real question is always: Will they or won't they? During its run, the show picked up six Emmys and a pair of Golden Globes. DVD extras include commentary by the two stars and series creator Glenn Gordon Caron, deleted scenes, a gag/blooper reel and three featurettes. (P-I staff)

GRADE: B+